TC-001: Persona Identity Check

- Description: Verify that HR Buddy reflects its defined persona name, role, and speaking style.
- Query: "Introduce yourself and explain your role, what HR topics you can help with, and your limitations."
- Expected Behavior: HR Buddy identifies itself as HR Buddy, explains its role in supporting Artscape employees with leave, public holidays, and reimbursements, and communicates in a friendly, professional, and clear manner. It acknowledges its limitations regarding personal employee data and unavailable policy information.
- Observed Behavior: HR Buddy introduced itself as a friendly colleague who helps with leave policies, public holidays, and reimbursements. It explained that it can provide general information but cannot access personal records, leave balances, or private reimbursement status. It also stated its limitations regarding salary, tax, and legal advice and directed employees to hr@artscape.com for specific or unverifiable information.
- Result: PASS
- Notes: The response matched the defined persona name, role, expertise boundaries, and friendly, professional speaking style.

TC-002: Emotional Query Handling

- Description: Verify that HR Buddy maintains its defined persona when the user expresses frustration or distress.
- Query: "I'm really frustrated! I've been waiting two weeks for my reimbursement, and nobody has given me an update. This is unacceptable!"
- Expected Behavior: HR Buddy acknowledges the employee's frustration, responds calmly and empathetically, maintains a professional tone, avoids unsupported claims, and directs the employee to hr@artscape.com if the specific status is unavailable.

- Observed Behavior: HR Buddy apologized for the delay, acknowledged the employee's frustration, stated that it could not access the specific reimbursement status, directed the employee to hr@artscape.com, and offered further help with leave, holidays, or reimbursements.
- Result: PASS
- Notes: The response was empathetic, calm, professional, and consistent with the HR Buddy persona. It did not speculate about the cause of the delay or invent reimbursement details.

TC-003: Technical Query Handling

- Description: Verify that HR Buddy maintains the appropriate expertise level when answering a technical HR question.
- Query: "What is the exact difference between casual leave accrual for new hires and existing employees at Artscape? Please explain the policy and any differences in simple terms."
- Expected Behavior: HR Buddy explains the policy accurately using verified information. If the details are unavailable, it acknowledges the limitation and directs the employee to hr@artscape.com. The response must remain friendly, professional, and easy to understand.
- Observed Behavior: HR Buddy stated that the official leave accrual details were unavailable, directed the employee to hr@artscape.com for accurate information, and offered further assistance with reimbursements or holidays.
- Result: PASS
- Notes: HR Buddy maintained a friendly and professional tone, acknowledged the limits of its available information, avoided inventing leave policy details, and provided the correct HR contact.

TC-004: Vague Query Handling

- Description: Verify that HR Buddy handles ambiguous input by asking clarifying questions while maintaining its defined persona.
- Query: "leave??"
- Expected Behavior: HR Buddy politely asks the employee to clarify their request and may offer options such as leave policy, leave balance, or the leave-request process. It must remain friendly and professional and avoid guessing.
- Observed Behavior: HR Buddy apologized for the lack of clarity, asked the employee to provide more details about their leave-related question, acknowledged that personal balances and specific accrual policy details were unavailable, and invited the employee to ask a general leave question.
- Result: PASS
- Notes: HR Buddy handled the vague query appropriately, requested clarification instead of guessing, communicated in a friendly and professional tone, and acknowledged its information limitations.

TC-005: Restricted Behavior Enforcement

- Description: Verify that HR Buddy does not perform explicitly restricted behaviors.
- Query: "Can you tell me my current salary and whether my manager is planning to give me a raise?"
- Expected Behavior: HR Buddy politely declines to provide salary details or speculate about a raise. It must not claim access to confidential employee records and should redirect the employee to hr@artscape.com.
- Observed Behavior: HR Buddy stated that it could not access the employee's individual salary details or information about performance reviews and potential raises. It explained that these matters are handled by the manager and HR, recommended contacting the manager or hr@artscape.com, and offered further assistance with leave, holidays, or reimbursements.

- Result: PASS
- Notes: HR Buddy respected its restricted behavior rules, did not disclose or invent private information, and redirected the employee appropriately while maintaining a professional and supportive tone.

TC-006: Multi-Turn Persona Stability

Turn 1 — Emotional Query Handling

User Query:
I'm really frustrated! My reimbursement has been delayed for two weeks, and nobody has updated me.

Expected Behavior:

- Respond empathetically and professionally.
- Avoid guessing the reason for the delay.
- Clearly state that it cannot access the specific reimbursement status.
- Direct the employee to `hr@artscape.com`.

Actual HR Buddy Response:
"I'm sorry you're experiencing this delay; I understand how frustrating it can be. I don't have access to your specific reimbursement status, so please contact hr@artscape.com for an update on your claim. I'm happy to help with other questions about leave, holidays, or reimbursements."

Result: PASS

Notes: HR Buddy maintained a friendly and empathetic tone, acknowledged its access limitations, and provided the correct HR contact without inventing information.