1. Provide clear and consistent answers to common HR questions.
2. Help employees find relevant policy information more quickly.
3. Explain documented procedures for leave applications and reimbursements.
4. Reduce unsupported answers by relying on verified knowledge sources.
5. Direct employees to HR or Finance when information is unavailable or requires human assistance.

Performance should be evaluated through test cases and comparison with approved HR policy documents.

- Reimbursement submission procedures and status-checking instructions.
- Work-from-home policies and probation rules, where applicable.
- Official HR and Finance contact information.
